5722. We do not have capacity to count the number of spear soldiers, Who can split the mountain in to two nor those archers who came in dense formation, Nor those soldiers who were armed with swords. The number of small eyed elephants, With rut water flowing on both sides which made the earth slushy was twelve thousand. The number of chariots in that army formation was also the same number.

5723. , Similarly the cavalry of the same size assembled there and, When they joined, the Asura kings who held the swords of valour, Also came and joined them and Indrajit who had enmity, Flowing like a stream, immediately came and got in to his chariot, And went

5725. “You are not deeply thinking about anything that does good to us,You experience whatever happens and then become sad because of it.Though you knew about the great strength of that cruel monkey,You went on sending rows and rows of Rakshasas asking them,To fight with that monkey and I think you have killed them all.”

5726. ”Oh my father , KImkaras, Jambumali , the faultless five commanders ,Who were all asuras wearing heroic anklets along with a part of our army ,Were all killed and not even one was able to return , Is it really a monkey?For I feel that is the same as the trinity of Lord Brahma, Vishnu and Shiva .”

5727. “You have won over the prowess of the eight elephants of direction,You have won over the Kailasa mountain of Lord Shiva who burnt the three cities,You have won over the three worlds and you are now simply seeing that monkey,Which had killed Aksha kumara. Even after all this destruction ,If we say that we will go to the battle field and win over it ,That would be idle prattling. Would it be a wise decision?”

5728. ”Inspite of that sir, I would easily catch that monkey who does acts of valour ,In a very short time and so from now on you need not suffer any sorrow for that ,You would live long,” saying like this that Indrajit who imprisoned ,Lord Indra , the king of devas along with his fame , went to the battle field.

5757. That Indrajit wearing ornaments of the shape of leaf , saw that great battle field,And thought that it was like a different world , with very many cruel weapons,Floating in the rivers of blood from the big corpses of those Asura who died there,And along with immeasurable number of mountains , oceans,Rivers and forests was looking like another world which is wide .

5758. He felt slight sorrow in his mind which had never suffered from sorrow ,And thought that “All the Asura warriors , who were like a completely full ocean,Who had measureless greatness and who were matchless in their valour ,Had died here.. There is only one monkey that is seen to be here,And if Rama comes and wages a war at us along with similar monkeys,With which army can we fight with him and win over him?”

Bharat Temples

which had the property of ebbing out, And like hitting a nail over another nail already pushed in, pushes that nail further, His anger pushed inside the great sorrow that he had in his mind, what a surprise?”

5765. When these things were happening there, the very masculine Hanuman, Wearing a heroic anklet who was like Lord Shiva who burnt the three cities, With great anger saw Indrajit the son Of Ravana, who was coming towards him, Who was riding on chariot similar to Lord Sun riding on a chariot.

5766. ”is it not true that I have won over some Asuras earlier? This person, Has been summoned here speedily by either by my defeat or victory, And one of them will definitely happen here. This one is surely Indrajit.” Hanuman thought.

5767. ”If this Indrajit wearing a well scented flower garland who is like a bull, Mad with valour is killed by me, that would cause the death of Ravana also, ”Thinking like this further, Ravana thinking that he would surely die, Would take the faultless and chaste Sita and give her to Rama, And not only that all these Asuras would lose their pride and lose their cruelty.”

5768. ”If I can possibly kill this lustrous Indrajit, there would be more than, One benefit out of that “Indra would not be sad any more, There would not be any security to this Lanka of Asuras, And I would also win over Ravana and uproot him.”

5769. When Hanuman was thinking like that and standing there, The
